

THEY'LL BE IN ALBANY SOON. Constance and Louise Miller, youngest daughters of Governor-elect Miller, of New York. With them is their police dog, Scout. Keystone View Co.

S. D. GLUSKER AS KISIM and D. P. Shupe as Misim were among Maren's handmaids.

H. B. DE VINNY AS DICK KELLY, the American youth, and G. J. Riley as Maren, the Persian beauty.

J. N. DODSON and F. P. Bailey, who were in the dancing chorus.

J. A. SEXTON appeared as About to Score, and J. G. MacKenzie as the Haroun Pasha.

A PRELIMINARY SHOWING OF "PERSIAN NIGHT" WAS MADE LAST NIGHT BY THE MASK AND WIG CLUB IN THE CLUBHOUSE ON CAMAC STREET.

TEN MINUTES EACH DAY. Pennsylvania Railroad clerks of the voluntary Relief Department in Broad Street Station at 11 and 3 o'clock each day throw up the windows and go through breathing exercises and light calisthenics for five minutes. Lloyd D. W. Gilmour is the instructor.

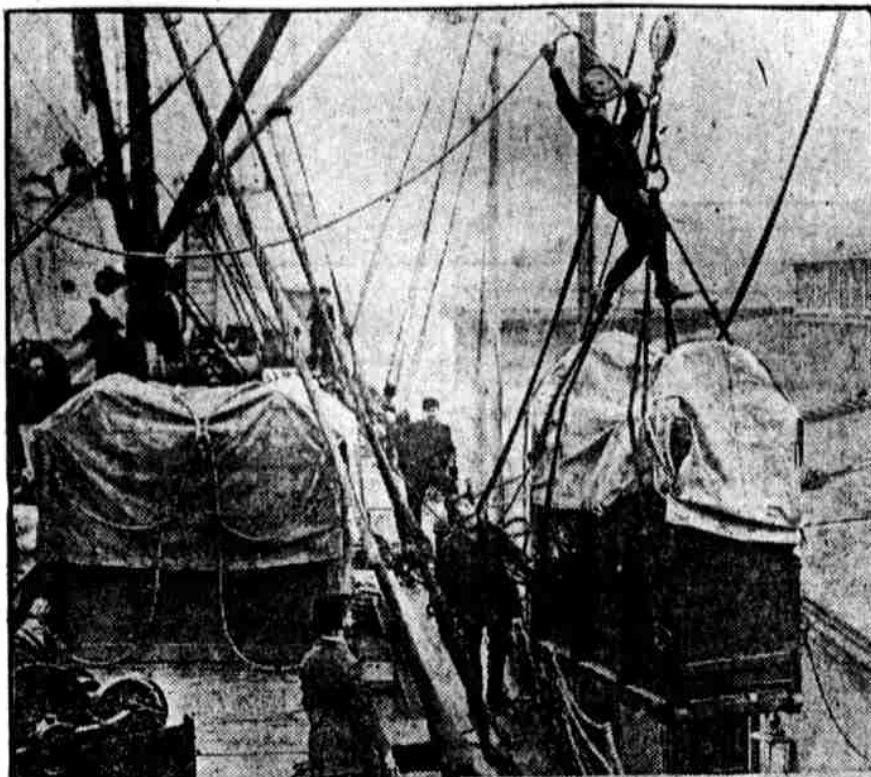

JOSEPH S. McLAUGHLIN, former director of supplies, discusses municipal markets in an interview on the editorial page.

PRINCESS HELEN, eldest daughter of ex-King Constantine of Greece, who will soon wed Crown Prince Charles of Rumania. International.

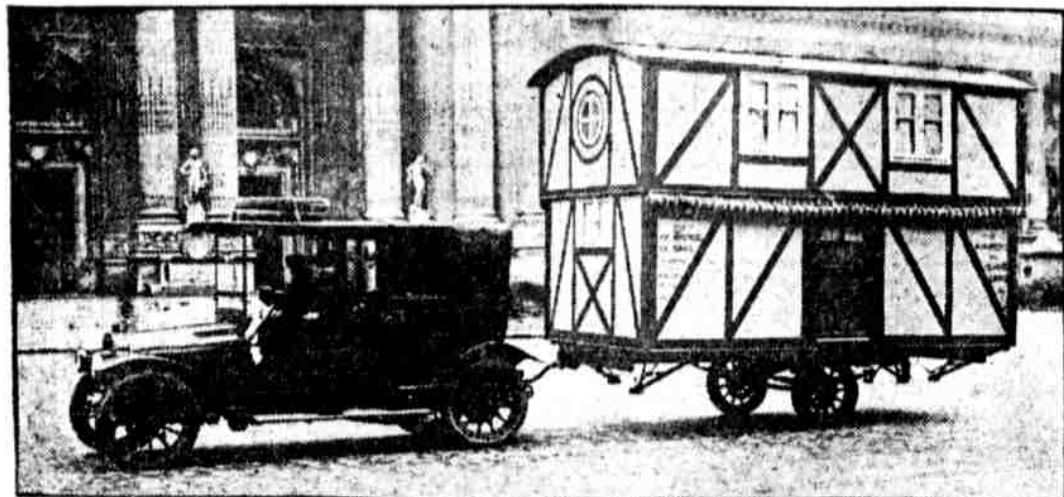

TAUGHT French American canning methods. Mrs. Bernice Carter Davis has been twice honored by the French Government. Underwood & Underwood.

LOADING POLO PONIES. Forty of the fastest ponies known to polo followers were put aboard the liner Old North State on Monday for shipment to England. They'll be busy during the international polo matches next spring. Underwood & Underwood.

PRINCE LEOPOLD AS A "BUCK PRIVATE." Heir to the throne of Belgium placed in the ranks of the military school at Brussels. He is at the left, during an inspection. Underwood & Underwood.

FOR FRENCH PEASANTS. It's a common sight in France to see these bungalows being towed out into the devastated areas to be used by those whose homes were shattered by war. News Photo.

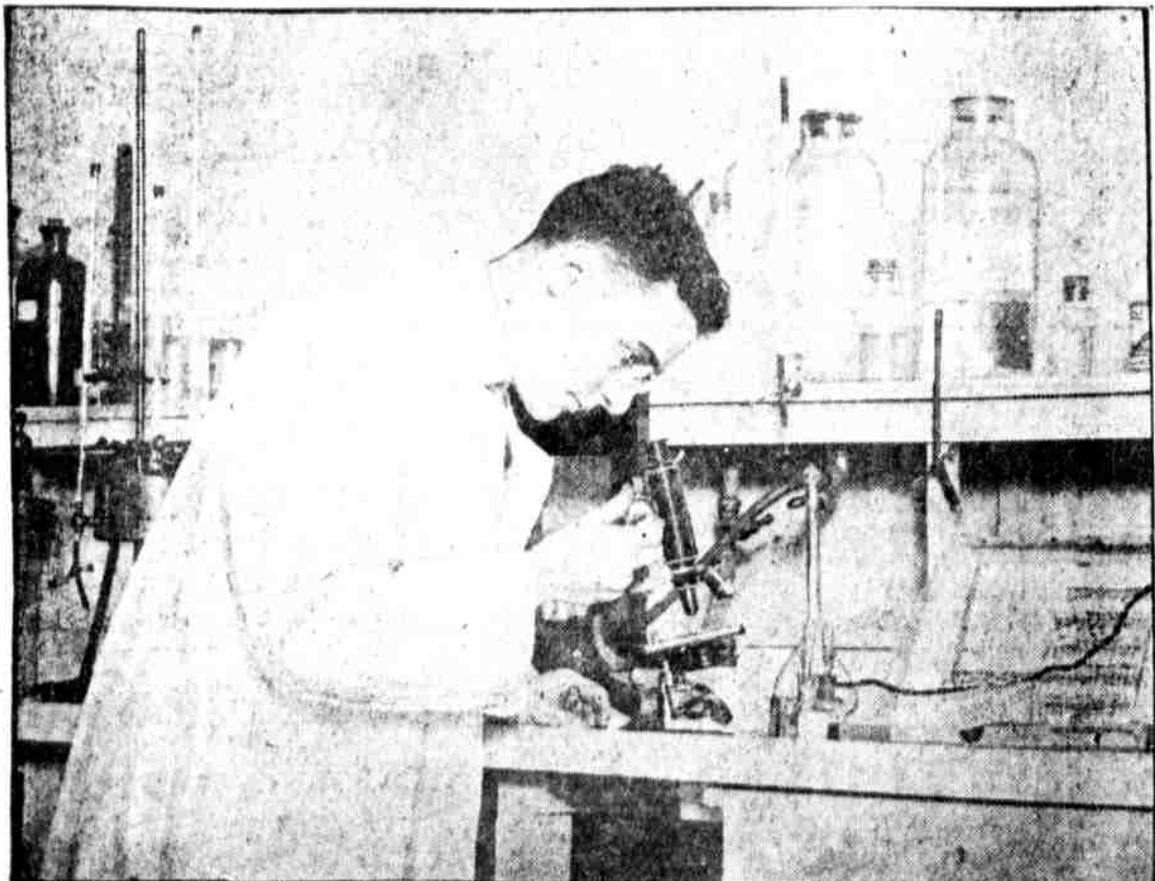

EASTERN STAR WOMEN GIVE PLAY. It was given by the Francis Scott Key Chapter, No. 256, at the Grand Fraternity Building. Left to right: Mrs. Laura Hoeffelman, worthy matron of that chapter; Mrs. Ida Stafford, Mrs. Lillian Morris and Miss Anna May Faust. Ledger Photo Service.

GETTING READY FOR THE CHILDREN. Students of Drexel Institute trim trees. The children will be on hand today. Miss Clara L. Hake and C. Dewitt Mansfield are helpers. Ledger Photo Service.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

CHARLES G. FERRARI, chief chemist, making a microscopic examination of dairy products in the laboratory of the P. E. Sharpless Co., 819 North Eleventh street. Ledger Photo Service.

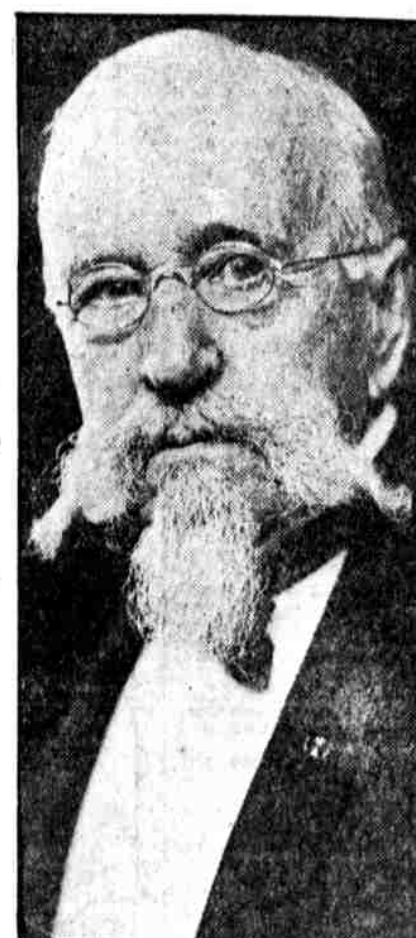

MARY DUNCAN STEWART an interpretative artist, will appear at the Bellevue-Stratford tonight under the auspices of the Philadelphia Music Club. Kubey-Rembrandt Studio.

SEMAPHORE SENTINELS

RESERVE PATROLMAN WILLIAM B. EVANS, known as the "dancing policeman." For two years he has been stationed at Broad street and Ridge avenue. Evans is married and lives at 72 East Clapier street. He is thirty-five years old, and joined the police force in 1917. Ledger Photo Service.

BRIGADIER GENERAL ANSON T. MILLS. He had a remarkable record during the Civil War and was recently honored by the Colonial War Veterans in Washington. Underwood & Underwood.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

MISS THERESA FERGUSON 2301 Frankford avenue Philadelphia